The A. H. S. Newscast

Hi, kids. Well, it looks like every body has settled down to some serious studying. The Seniors are doing some extra hard studying because they are getting better acquainted with Mrs. Gilbert's Senior English class.

The clean-up campaign last week sponsored by the F. H. A. and S. C. A., was a great success. The halls and grounds are cleaner tha. I have ever seen them and all the lockers were cleaned out for the first time since school started. Perhaps the greatest improvement, however, was made in the rest rooms. Let's try to keep our school looking as clean as we can and we will have the title of the cleanest school in the state.

The seniors have received their personal cards and exchanged these cards with all the members of the class. They have also been measured for caps and gowns.

The Posture kings and queens for the week are:

12th grade:	Mary Ellen Moore, Billy Johnston
11th grade:	Elizabeth Hanenkrat Carter Woodson
10th grade:	Vernell Bryant Billy Almond
9th grade:	Thelma Mayberry Nancy Doss
8th grade:	John Rothgeb Wesley Newcomb Pete Jamerson Marilyn Guill Alice Ashworth Frank Cawthorn
Faculty:	Mr. H. B. Pack Miss Overstreet.

The S. C. A. met Friday morning and Mr. Lewis, our health officer, gave an interesting talk.

Basketball practice is well under way now. The teams seem to be shaping up very nicely for Coach Gordon Bragg is always smiling during practice.

Our varsity football team plays South Boston H. S. here on Friday night. Everyone is excited over the game, so don't miss it. The team will need all the support you can give it. There will be a pep rally in the auditorium the last ten or fifteen minutes of school Friday. The student body is asked to use the same seating arrangement as they use in assembly. These pep rallies are planned and carried out by the cheerleaders.

It was nice to see so many of our old friends home this week-end. Lois Wood, from Ferrum; Harry Lawson, Navy, stationed in Jacksonville, Florida; Barbara Carter, who works in Richmond, and Ann Waller, were a few of those here.

November 25th is the deadline! For what? Sending in a payment on our annual. All the money that we send in will enable us to receive a discount. If you haven't alre.,' subscribed for your annual, do so today by contacting your home-room representative.

A reminder: Christmas is just around the corner, so now is a good time to start that gift list and start saving money.

I'll be seeing you next week at this same time.

Sure To Score...

Yes, you'll score high with your family and guests when you serve frozen foods which have been properly prepared. But whether you rent a locker or have a home freezer, or have both, here are three rules you must follow to get the best frozen foods . . .

RULE ONE—Meats must be properly cut, ground, boned, and trimmed. We have the experience and the equipment to do this for you economically and expertly.

RULE TWO—Meats must be properly packaged for freezing. We use the correct moisture-proof wrappings and apply them with the latest methods.

RULE THREE—Meats for storage in the locker or home freezer must be quick-frozen at sub-zero temperatures. We have the refrigeration for doing this.

ENGAGEMENT CALENDAR OF VIRGINIA GARDENS

Women everywhere will be interested in what 1800 ladies of the Garden Club of Virginia have done to promote and share the beauties of their state with others. Today, their publishers, The Dietz Press of Richmond, announce the publication of a most attractive and useful book titled "The Engagement Calendar of Virginia Gardens.' It is arranged and planned for the year 1952.

CONTROL OF SUCKERS

Almost 100 per cent control of suckers on tobacco was obtained by using mineral oil in tests at the Chatham branch of Virginia Agricultural Experiment Station last season.

E. M. Matthews, superintendent of the branch, in giving this optimistic report, said that the use of mineral oil will greatly reduce time and labor spent in the tedious job of suckering tobacco.

He also tried napthalene acetic acid, but found it less effective.

The acre yields and values were larger on the mineral oil-treated tobacco than for tobacco topped at the same time and suckered weekly by hand.

The oil must be applied lightly to each plant using a pint of oil for 400 to 500 plants, applied only to the little broken top end of stalk just after topping. Too much oil will cause damage.

That tobacco definitely needs to be topped and suckered is shown in Matthews' report of his tests.

The average return for five years for tobacco topped and suckered was 1,580 pounds and $823 per acre; while tobacco neither topped nor suckered produced only 1265 pounds and $670 per acre. Failing to top alone resulted in a loss of $129 per acre, while failing to sucker alone resulted in a loss of $7 per acre.

Matthews says the practice of using mineral oil is not generally recommended. More information is needed and the tests will continue.

BUCKINGHAM FIRE

An estimated $20,000 loss resulted from a fire at Buckingham Court House last Saturday night. Springer's store was lost, and nearby residences threatened. Firemen were handicapped in fighting the fire by a lack of water.

Tobacco Sales Begin Monday In Dark Be't

Dark tobacco markets will open next Monday, November 26, and growers are preparing to test out the 1951 selling prospect. Local growers will sell at Farmville, Lynchburg, Blackstone and Bedford warehouses, with Farmville and Lynchburg making bids for dark belt leaf tobacco.

A favorable season to put the finishing touches on tobacco to be offered is anticipated by growers, who will begin moving leaf to the warehouse floors this week-end.

Every indication is that the 1951 crop will equal that of last year in quality. Warehousemen believe that prices will be favorable.

Diversification of crops has made farmers less dependent on tobacco during the past decade. But dark tobacco remains a major source of income to the farmer, and is a base for the economic prosperity of the hundred belt.

LEGION SPONSORS ACTIVITY CALENDAR

A new type of calendar, perhaps the first of its kind ever offered, will soon be available to the people of Appomattox County. Sponsored by local Post No. 104, of the American Legion, the calendar will contain birth dates, anniversaries, festivals, club meetings, church and school activities, and other items of interest.

Past Commander Ivey Holland, of the American Legion, says, "The purpose of this calendar, other than the needed funds, is to unite the community more closely by providing local information and activity dates."

Present members of the Legion are compiling the necessary information to be included in the calendar. The listing of birth dates and anniversaries is being handled by Student Cooperative Association of the local high school. Those persons who desire to have their birth dates on the calendar should contact a member of the SCA before November 30. Members will also take orders for Activity Calendars. It is expected to be available early in 1952, and will run for 12 full months regardless of the starting date.

HUNTING SEASON FOR STATE FORESTS

The hunting season in the Cumberland and Buckingham - Appomattox state forests will run from December 3 through December 8 this year, according to I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

The season will open on deer, rabbit, squirrel, quail and raccoon, but it will be closed on turkey. Completion of a game survey on the two forests shows that there are not enough turkeys on the areas to justify opening the season on them this year.

Checking stations on the forests will be opened at 6:00 A. M. each day of hunting. Only one permit will be required of hunters, but they must check in and check out each day. The reason for this is that an accurate record must be kept of hunters using the areas and of the game killed during the hunt. A fee of one dollar will be charged for each permit issued. The money will go toward defraying expenses of the hunt.

In setting up the regulations, the Commission has urged a word of caution upon the nimrods. Observation of the game laws is a must and caution with fire is something about which no thinking hunter should have to be told. A careless match or cigarette butt could postpone future seasons indefinitely.

HUNTING PROSPECT WEST OF BLUE RIDGE

Returning from a speaking tour in the counties west of the Blue Ridge, I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, reports that prospects for the gunning season in that area are the most promising he has seen in years, that there have been for years.

The "birds," down in numbers because of extreme weather conditions, have bounced back, offering a bumper crop to quail hunters of the area.

"Ten to twelve years ago hunters complained that there were no deer to hunt. Today the complaints have come to us that the deer are too heavily concentrated and as a result deer damage complaints are also on the increase."

Quinn reminded hunters that the waterfowl season will open at 12:00 noon, November 22, and if the Fish and Wildlife Service is right, the outlook is greatly improved over last year.

CLUB YEARBOOKS BEING DISTRIBUTED

New 1952 yearbooks for the home demonstration clubs of Appomattox County have just come from the presses of the Times-Virginian and are being distributed among the club members. The yearbook has 48 pages and carries the yearly program as well as timely information for the clubs. It is liberally supported by local advertisements. This year the book is dedicated to Mrs. Frank F. Carr, district president.

COUNTY TEACHERS HEAR REPORTS

The Appomattox County Teachers Association held a meeting in the Appomattox High School library on Tuesday night, November 20. After a brief business session, Mrs. Jean Moore, president of the association, introduced the two delegates, Mrs. Rosetta Sand Miss Wilma Allen, to the V. E. A. convention in Richmond on October 31, November 1 and 2. Each gave a report on the convention.

During the meeting, Miss Frances Mattox was elected to represent the local association at the N. E. A. convention to be held in July, 1952, in Detroit, Michigan.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Alfred R. Harwood, Jr., who gave a book review of "A Man Named Peter." This was of special interest, since Dr. Peter Marshall, deceased chaplain of the U. S. Senate, had been a visitor in Appomattox County.

Dental Clinic Underway At Local School

At last the dental clinic has arrived in Appomattox. Dr. Podnieks reached here last Friday with the mobile unit and started work Monday. All children in the grades will be examined and a list of needed dental work and cost of the work will be sent to parents. All parents who can are urged to take advantage of this long-awaited opportunity to have their children's needed dental work done.

Dr. Podnieks, who is a very interesting an attractive person herself, will explain her work to the Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night, November 27, at the regular November meeting, which will be held at 8:00 o'clock in the cafeteria.

For the program, the P.-T. A. will have as guest speaker Mrs. Aubrey Strode, wife of Judge Strode, of Amherst. Mrs. Strode will discuss child development for six years through the teen ages. In addition, a short movie will be shown.

All parents and everyone interested in the school should attend this meeting.

Farmers To Select County Committeemen

Production and Marketing Administration community committeemen elections will be held in each of the three communities in Appomattox County on Friday, December 7, according to E. R. Gowin, chairman of the PMA County Committee. Community boundaries will conform to the county magisterial district lines.

Each farmer who participates in any program administered by the PMA county committee, or who is eligible for a CCC loan or who holds a Federal Crop Insurance policy may vote in his respective community election.

Voting in Appomattox County will be by the ballot box method. In each community farmers will vote for three regular community committeemen, two alternate committeemen, and a delegate and alternate delegate. The delegate from each community meets with other such community delegates on the next day, December 8, to elect a county committee of three.

Both county and community committeemen will take office immediately after the election and hold office for a year. They will be responsible for the administration of the Agricultural Conservation Program, the price support operations, marketing quotas, and in certain counties they will assist the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation in writing all-risk crop insurance.

Chairman Gowin pointed out that also on December 7, in connection with the committeemen election, the fire-cured tobacco referendum will be held, at which time fire-cured growers will vote for or against marketing quotas for the next three years.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY

Members of 4-H Clubs, their parents and friends are invited to attend the annual 4-H Achievement Day Program. It will be held at the Lee Theatre on Friday, November 23, beginning at 10 A. M.

An interesting program will be presented and at 11 o'clock a movie will be shown by the management of the theatre. A prize will be given the club having the largest percentage of attendance.

JAMERSON TO VPI?

Bill Jamerson, the big tackle on the winning AHS football team, may be headed toward V. P. I. next fall. Several colleges have sent scouts to watch the Blue Hornets play, and are known to be interested in both Jamerson and Ed Cawthorne, backfield ace.

100 CONTRIBUTORS TO BLOODMOBILE

The local Red Cross Blood Program Committee is very appreciative of the 118 persons who came to the Appomattox High School Cafeteria to give a pint of blood each for hospitals, defense and for Korea, on the occasion of the visitation here Saturday, November 17. Eighteen who came had to be rejected for various reasons. Only two of them were permanent rejections. The other sixteen can give blood in the near future. One hundred donors were able to make their life-giving and life-saving contribution without any harm to their own health and strength.

The Red Cross Blood Program, as administered by the Roanoke Regional Blood Center, which operates in thirty-two counties of Virginia, is a noble organization and worthy of the support and patronage of all citizens of the co-operating counties. They neither buy nor sell any blood. They do not waste any blood received by them. They take and distribute blood most justly and wisely and helpfully.

One week before the bloodmobile was due to arrive in Appomattox only 100 persons had signed donor blood cards against a need for 200 signed pledges. During the next five days blood recruiters worked hard toward securing the other 100 signed cards. By Friday, November 16, cards had been signed by a total of 165 persons. A spot on the local movie screen and an article in the Lynchburg News and in the Times-Virginian and radio appeal by the WWOD Appomattox Newscast, calling for donors to appear at the Bloodmobile on Saturday, November 17, whether or not they had signed to do so, brought in 26 un-pledged donors to the operating scene. Out of a total of 191 persons involved only 118 appeared. Where were the 73 who failed to come? Some of them were sick. A few of them forgot to come. Emergencies arose which kept some from coming. The local Red Cross Blood Program Committee is amazed that with blood so sadly needed by our wounded in Korea and for transfusions in our local hospitals that so many failed to keep their appointment Saturday, November 17. Surely the citizens of Appomattox County will do better when the next bloodmobile comes to Appomattox. The quota for each bloodmobile visit is 150 pints.

—Appomattox County Red Cross Blood Program Committee.

The Blue Hornets of Appomattox High School ended a highly successful football season here last night by soundly defeating the heralded Farmville High School team 34 to 19. The Hornets came through a tough ten-game schedule with only one loss, a close decision to Redford.

Coupled with a shirring 34 to 19 win over South Boston here Friday night, the game last night set up Appomattox as a power in high school football circles in central Virginia. The record stands a testament to the artistry of Coach Gordon Bragg and calls for praise for the entire squad of players.

Sparked by Ed Cawthorne and Bill Jamerson, a pair of brilliant seniors, and aidcd and abetted by outstanding performances by each team member, the Hornets simply ran over Farmville last night.

Jamerson, a tackle, achieved an ambition in the final quarter of the game. All year he had dreamed of making a touchdown. When Appomattox ran the ball to the three-yard line, Jamerson was switched from the line into the backfield and was given a chance to carry the ball. He bulled his way over the massed Farmville line like it had been tissue paper. Nothing could have stopped him on that play.

The Friday before Ed Cawthorne had staged the most brilliant performance of his nigh school career by scoring five touchdowns against South Boston for one of the best games ever played by an AHS team. That made him a marked man last night, as he has been in each game all season. On top of that he had been sick all week with a severe cold. There had been doubt as to whether or not he would be well enough to play. So he simply came up with a sterrar performance, and accounted for over 350 yards gained rushing and returning kicks. He took the opening kick off on his 20 and returned to the Farmville 28. Henry Doss and Maymond Mitchell advanced the ball for a first down, but a penalty set AHS back, and it was fourth down and 20 to go for a score. Cawthorne took off around left end and simply exploded over for the first six points. Doss made the extra point.

Let by an able player, Billy Franklin, Farmville came back to score twice in the first half. Joe Warner and John Hubbard teamed up with Franklin on a 70-yard march for the first score, Herbert Trent finally going over. Minutes Franklin passed to Warner for the second tally. Ed Cawthorne then put AHS out ahead for keeps with a magnificent dash to the 5, from which point Henry Doss scored. Doss played the best game of his carrer last night.

The second half saw Appomattox on a scoring spree. Cawthorne opened up the Farmville with sensational end sweeps, and then Doss and Mitchell would plow through the middle. Cawthorne circled end for 39 yards for one touchdown, and returned a punt 70 yards for another.

Bobby Chernault played a fine game at end. Carter Woodson, Dan Carson, Billy Johnson and Charles Carter were outstanding, but team play was the thing that enabled the smartly-coached Hornet squad to end the season in a blaze of glory.

YOUNG FARMERS STUDY FORESTRY

8,690 young farmers in Virginia, members of Young Farmers Clubs and institutional-on-farm training classes studied farm forestry during the past year in the classroom and field, for an average of fourteen hours each.

Practically all of these young men are farm operators and have farm woodlots on their farms they operate. During World War II many of the forests on the farms they now operate were severely cut, no seed trees were left and very little attention was given by the past owners in future forest production. One of the big problems today is how to get these cut-over forest lands back into production.

Trooper Smith Killed in Train Crash Yesterday

A tragedy marred the opening of the Thanksgiving holiday yesterday, when State Trooper Robert W. Smith, 37, was killed instantly when his state police cruiser crashed into a train at Pamplin.

Trooper Smith, a popular resident of Pamplin, was crossing the west railroad crossing in Pamplin, a few hundred feet from his home, when his car was demolished in collision with Norfolk and Western passenger train No. 8, a local between Roanoke and Norfolk.

C. W. Davis, train engineer, was the only witness to the accident. The crossing is protected by a swinging arm and lights. Davis said the train was traveling at about 40 miles an hour at the time and that he had sounded his whistle for the crossing. Lieut. C. W. Carr, of the State Police, headed the investigation of the crash. He said Smith was returning to duty, and said marks on the track apron gave the only evidence as to what had occurred. The train had been about 15 minutes late at Lynchburg, and Smith may have thought it had already passed Pamplin. Smith had not long before left the Third Division Headquarters at Appomattox. A few moments before the crash he had talked to Lieut. Carr by his car radio.

Trooper Smith, was a native of Elmont, Hanover County, the son of the late Edward A. and Ethel Wright Smith, He was born April 11, 1914. He joined the State Police force July 14, 1936. He had tours of duty in Stafford County, Roanoke and Norfolk before being assigned to Appomattox County in 1944. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gwendolyn Dunton Smith, two brothers, Hugh and Edward Smith, both of Ashland; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Labino of Maumee, Ohio, and Mrs. George Albert Spencer, of Ashland.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge 191, Pamplin and this year was elected district deputy of the Grand Masonic Lodge of Virginia. He was a member and leader in the Pamplin Ruritan Club and was past superintendent of the Pamplin Methodist Sunday School.

An annual contribution of Mr. and Mrs. Smith was a March of Dimes party in Pamplin, which always netted a fine sum for the polio drive.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 P. M. Friday from the home in Pamplin, with burial in the Community Cemetery, Pamplin.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS ON

Credit for getting the ball rolling for outdoor Christmas decorations here goes to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rogers. They installed the lights on a tree in front of their Church St. residence this week. Others are expected to follow, and with the passing Thanksgiving the tempo of the Christmas season will hold sway.
